I4GxZURI Cohort Training / Frontend developer

May 2022 - July 2022, Remote

This curriculum aims to introduce newcomers to product design and software development. I was accepted to undergo top-notch training as a front-end developer, where I got assigned projects each week that ranged in difficulty from easy to complex using programming languages like Html, CSS, and Javascript. After passing the final stage of the training, I was awarded a certificate. Here is a link to my GitHub profile, where you can see the task repositories and links to live websites:
